Leading in the Struggle to Serve

“Building A Restorative School Culture”

Palm Springs Unified School District

2020-2021

Summary of Work

Akoben is excited to submit this proposal to support the implementation of Restorative Practices at four school sites within the Palm Springs Unified School District. Over the course of a year, Akoben will build staff capacity by developing more restorative and culturally responsive staff members throughout the district through the facilitation of virtual, professional development workshops. Given the circumstances presented by COVID-19, this mission is especially important.

Project Details

School-Based Professional Development

These interactive sessions will be conducted by experts from the Akoben team. Participants will engage in a three-part series to deepen their understanding of how to increase social capital, build community and develop responsible decision making. These sessions include:

1. Caring for the Educator Restorative Circle
2. Using our Restorative Practices for this Moment
3. Going Deeper: RP 2.0

Each interactive session will run 90 minutes and will be conducted virtually. Each cohort will receive the trainings independently.

Resources/Materials

In order to launch their restorative journey, Champions will receive a copy of the new book by Akoben founder, Dr. Malik Muhammad, The Restorative Journey – Book One: The Theory and Application of Restorative Practices.

Proposed Fees

The fees for this project are as follows:

Element	Description
Professional Development Training (provided virtually)	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Caring for the Educator Restorative Circle (full day or equivalent for up to 25 participants)• Using our Restorative Practices for this Moment (full day or equivalent for up to 25 participants)• Going Deeper: RP 2.0 (full day or equivalent for up to 25 participants)
Resources/Materials	Copies of The Restorative Journey for up to 100 participants
Fees	$7250

We estimate an October 2020 start date and end date of June 30, 2021. Akoben will invoice Palm Springs Unified School District based on a mutually agreed upon invoice schedule.
