Chip:

We in MASC are all very happy that NSBA has reached out to the FBI and, based on local coverage, has been identified as a key agent for generating federal support. We are looking forward to collaborating on a possible regional effort and, certainly, doing something significant here in Massachusetts to generate public awareness of the need for Washington to have our backs on protecting our members and students as well.

Please feel free to share this should it bolster our position in leading our SUAs and local boards to act boldly as we face the next stages of whatever confronts us.

Also, I hope to be in touch soon about your participation at our state convention next month. I think you and Viola will both be very well received based on NSBA's support for our work.
