Black Families, Black Villages, and Intergenerational

Family

The Three Principles

1. Intergenerational:

It's important that we have spaces where people of different ages can come together and learn from each other.

2. Black Families: There are lots of different kinds of families. What makes a family is people who take care of each other. It's important to make sure that all families feel welcome.

3. Black Villages: There are lots of different kinds of families. Families can be people who are related but they don't have to be. Sometimes, when it's lots of families together, it can be called a village."

What makes a family a family?

We need to learn some important words.

- Immediate Family
- Extended Family
 - Guardian

Immediate Family

Parents and their children

Extended Family

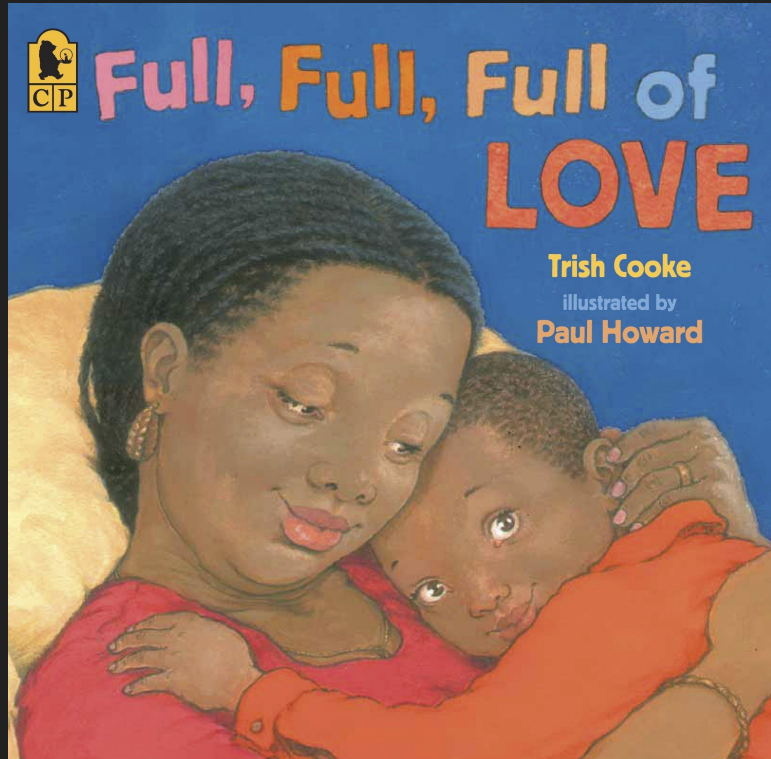

Aunts, uncles, cousins,
and grandparents.

Guardian

An adult who takes care of a child. The adult may not be the child's parent.
