Goals	Strong Learning Communities in Every Region - Columbus City Schools will strengthen a high quality, interdependent set of learning communities so that within and among these centers growth are reliable sources of support, identity, and hope.

Background & Return on Investment:

In September 2021, the district was one of 8 districts nationwide to receive the highly competitive Wallace ECPI grant in partnership with The Ohio State University, Ashland University and The Ohio Department of Education. The district was awarded $1,783,132 in year 1 of the 5 year grant.

As a part of the grant, the Wallace Foundation has designated that Ashland University will receive $468,050 to carryout their year one activities described in the ECPI Year One Grant Plan. Ashland University will partner with CCS to create a cohort model for principal preparation for aspiring school leaders in the district leading to principal licensure for successful candidates. Ashland University will adapt the cohort model previously established and intentionally embed learning to lead through a lens of equity.
