Hey! Really?!? I totally understand. You've definitely left a wonderful mark on your school board and in your district.

And YES!! I LOVE this idea. Looking forward to connecting!!

Hello Kesha,

I resigned my position on the Board of Education on Monday. I am no longer planning on taking a college course this current semester, and so I am updating my voter registration to my apartment in Portage officially.

That said, I spoke with Kenowa Hills' Director of Equity and Mental Health Services [REDACTED] who also has an LLC and does some equity consulting in West Michigan. I am thinking that us three would be a phenomenal group to do equity and empowerment consulting specifically for school boards!

As you know, there is so much that MASB won't tell its members. Namely, that most areas of the law afford Boards of Education tons of powers that we just assumed could only be exercised by the Superintendent. That's why I'd love to meet with the both of you on Zoom and talk about how to frame this work for school board members and get them on the right track! If you've got a phenomenal equity-focused school board but principals who undermine you, then you've got nothing at all. And somebody has got to help boards of education see that they have the power and responsibility to ensure that their policies are followed by their employees.

Oh, and I will still be presenting up at the MASB ALC on Saturday, October 22!

If you'd be open to meeting with the both of us, I'd love to talk and introduce you two!

Thank you,
