Project Description

This is a 3 week Academy for rising 3rd-6th grade NHUSD students grounded in the the call to action of the Alameda County Office of Education Racial Justice Resolution #2226 in which community members such as educators are asked to, “help our children understand and react to racial differences, and to teach our youth how to speak up against injustice, racism and inequality.”

Brave conversations, critical thinking and action research are major components of this learning academy. Scholars define, discuss, demystify, and grow their understanding of social injustices in our communities with empathy and compassion. They will identify injustices that they feel are most important to them and through action research, delve deeper in the complexity of its existence from multiple perspectives. Another important component of this learning academy is advocacy and activism. Through advocacy and activism we empower scholars with a purpose as they work on self-selected projects that make a difference in their communities. The SJA Academy will provide the elementary level Ethnic Studies component of the California mandated K-12 Ethnic Studies curriculum.

Overall Objective (Long term impact)

On a national, state and county level - legislation and resolutions have been passed and adopted that work to improve the educational opportunities and learning outcomes of all students. On a state level it has been determined that “incorporating ethnic studies into state content standards may be an effective way to implement content that encompasses students’ different experiences and to increase students’ academic engagement and agency.” The implementation of Ethnic Studies programs and curriculum helps “to narrow the achievement gap and the opportunity gap for students of color as well as benefits white students”. This program is the beginning of Ethnic Studies curriculum at the elementary level and the objective is to grow this program to have the lasting impacts stated above - increased belonging and engagement, increased opportunities and achievement. New Haven Unified can continue the work as a pioneer along with neighboring districts in the development of a district wide, TK-grade 12, Ethnic Studies program that impacts students at all levels of their education.

Project Objectives & Standards

SJA Overview: Goals, Standards, Curriculum

As stated above, the SJA meets the call to action of the Alameda County Office of Education Racial Justice Resolution #2226 in which community members such as educators are asked to, “help our children understand and react to racial differences, and to teach our youth how to speak up against injustice, racism and inequality.”

California Ethnic Studies Standards:

As a way to increase student engagement and encourage students to connect to their learning, some states have begun efforts to incorporate ethnic studies into state content standards. Ethnic studies standards focus on the “knowledge and perspectives of an ethnic or racial group, reflecting narratives and points of view rooted in that group’s lived experiences and intellectual scholarship” (Sleeter, 2011).¹

Guiding Institutional Frameworks/Foundations

California Ethnic Studies Model Curriculum

Therefore, under the direction of State Superintendent of Public Instruction Tony Thurmond and the guidance of the IQC, this model curriculum has been written to include information on the foundational disciplines in ethnic studies, and affords local educational agencies the flexibility to adapt the curriculum to address the demographics and diversity of the classroom. The adaptations should center on deepening or augmenting rather than scaling down any of the four disciplines. 4 For notes on disciplinary naming, please see chapter 3. This model curriculum is a step toward rectifying omission of the experiences and cultures of communities within California

The role of our public schools to promote understanding and appreciation of its diverse population must be an essential part of the curriculum offered to every student. Ethnic studies instruction should be a fundamental component of California public education in the twenty-first century. The Ethnic Studies Model Curriculum helps build the capacity for every young Californian to develop a social consciousness and knowledge that will contribute to the public good and, as a result, strengthen democracy.

In alignment with the California Ethnic Studies Model Curriculum, the SJA curriculum includes the following guiding values and principles:

1. Cultivate empathy, community actualization, cultural perpetuity, self-worth, self determination, and the holistic well-being of all participants, especially Native People/s and Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC)
2. Celebrate and honor Native People/s of the land and communities of Black, Indigenous, and People of Color by providing a space to share their stories of success, community collaboration, and solidarity, along with their intellectual and cultural wealth
3. Center and place high value on the precolonial ancestral knowledge, narratives, and communal experiences of Native People/s and people of color and groups that are typically marginalized in society
4. Critique empire building in history and its relationship to white supremacy, racism, and other forms of power and oppression
5. Challenge racist, bigoted, discriminatory, and imperialist/colonial beliefs and practices on multiple levels
6. Connect ourselves to past and contemporary social movements that struggle for social justice and an equitable and democratic society, and conceptualize, imagine, and build new possibilities for a post-racist, post-systemic-racism society that promotes collective narratives of transformative resistance, critical hope, and radical healing

New Haven Unified School District Ethnic Studies Goal:

Ethnic Studies is centered on knowing and understanding our students. Ethnic Studies is rooted in and fosters self love, empowerment, grit, community, solidarity, hope, and healing. Ethnic studies is an interdisciplinary approach and provides a safe, academic space. Ethnic Studies develops social, political, historical, environmental, economic, and academic literacy through pedagogical practices that are responsive to ALL of OUR students. Ethnic Studies empowers students to explore multiple narratives, various ethnic and socio-economic backgrounds and their history, as well as the intersectionality between all people. Ethnic Studies encompasses the 5 C's: Cultural Competence, Critical Thinking, Collaboration, Communication, and Creativity. It is curriculum relevant and accurate to the cultures in our classroom and it is a path to understanding and appreciating everyone's identity, the factors that create it, and the evolution of identity. Ethnic Studies will help students understand how our social construct is affected by race and the root causes of oppression, power, and privilege. It is the counter narrative to the historically institutionalized narrative taught in the United States.

Expected Results

- Creation of classrooms full of belonging and dignity.
- Scholars develop self-efficacy, purpose and a feeling of empowerment to make change.
- Scholars developing critical thinking tools and the language/vocabulary needed to engage in courageous, informed conversations on topics related to inequality and social justice.
- Scholars developing reading, writing and critical thinking skills needed to research social justice topics of interest and create projects that work towards growth and transformation.
- Academic Achievement data and qualitative data, i.e. personal testimonials, that show the SJA has impacted academic and personal growth.
- Scholars heading to the next grade level in elementary and middle school with knowledge of vocabulary and concepts to contribute to their learning in Social Sciences, Reading and Writing.
- Scholars who participated in SJA attending future SJA as volunteers and mentors to both fulfill part of their high school volunteer hours and to contribute their experiences and knowledge to the present scholars in SJA.
- Rising 6th grade scholars participating in SJA inclined to continue their learning by taking Ethnic Studies in Middle School and enrolling in Ethnic Studies Program at Logan High School.
- A growing Ethnic Studies curriculum that promotes the elementary component of the K-12 continuum of the California Ethnic Studies Model Curriculum.

Ethnic Studies Professional Development

Teachers who are participating in the Academy to obtain Ethnic Studies Professional Development will:

- Explore core concepts to deepen their understanding of the history they intend to teach while simultaneously exploring their own identity, the way their identity has affected and been affected by their experiences, and how their identity influences their perspective and the way they are seen by others, including their scholars.
- Gain insight from others' experiences and perspectives and build relationships for ongoing exploration, which may be useful as they then create reflective communities for their scholars.
- Grow in their own understanding of Ethnic Studies as they participate in collaboration, curriculum, and co-plan with the lead teachers.
- Practice culturally responsive teaching practices such as:

- Empowering students to share thoughts
- Establishing inclusion
- Integrating diverse work and study practices
- Understanding student learning needs and styles
- Emulating culturally-significant instruction styles, such as oral storytelling
- Observe and practice inclusive practices for brave conversations and how to facilitate honest and insightful discussions with multiple perspectives
- Continue to practice anti-bias and anti-racist, and culturally responsive pedagogy in their classrooms preceding the 2024 SJA.
- Receive a stipend for their summer professional development with an implied commitment to teach SJA the following summer and implement the tools and strategies to incorporate what they learned from the professional development in their own classrooms. Final approval must come from the leads.

Sustainability & Growth

This elementary program will help align the work of the district in creating a district wide Ethnic Studies Program as part of the continuum that will bridge all levels of a New Haven scholar's educational experience. Scholars of the SJA program who continue in elementary school will bring their understanding of perspectives, vocabulary, knowledge and skills to their new classrooms at each of the 6 elementary schools around the district. Student participants leaving elementary school will grow their learning by enrolling in Ethnic Studies in Middle School and subsequently the ESSJ Program at Logan. Scholars are encouraged to return to the elementary SJA in subsequent years (through middle school and high school) to volunteer as mentors and contribute to the knowledge of future SJA Scholars. This program plants the seed leading to many opportunities for them to continue their activism through community organizations like Black Student Union, Filipinos Advocates for Justice, Be Heard, and Causa Justa.

The curriculum we have created and continue to develop is not a scripted curriculum that others can follow without training and development in how to facilitate effective conversations and projects around sensitive topics related to social justice and inequalities. Children come with strong feelings connected to personal experiences. They bring misconceptions, bias, stereotypes and can even make overgeneralizations. We as educators do as well. Observation and participation through a paid professional development will be mandatory for teachers before they can start teaching their own class in the academy. Learning how to navigate brave and difficult conversations is a vital part of learning and growing with critical concepts like dehumanization, marginalization, racism, identity, and social activism. As professional development participants, teachers will gain experience and engage in the necessary professional development needed to integrate the work into their own classroom. Eventually they will continue these anti-bias practices and culturally responsive teaching in their own classrooms affecting even more students in the future.

Implementation Schedule

The program is scheduled for 3 weeks because of the level of deep thinking, heavy conversations, and emotional connections. Rising 6th graders will attend at PIO as well. This will allow them to bring their knowledge and experience to the mixed grade conversations and lift the level of the discussions.

Testimonials : 2021 Social Justice Academy Celebration \(slides and video\)

3/27/2023

My daughter attended the social justice academy over summer of 2020 and we both really appreciated the experience. She had the chance to learn and discuss with her peers about things in the community that we normally didn't talk enough about. She was inspired by learning new ways to think, share and stand up for herself. I felt it was important for her to know that this community, staff and students, cared and wanted to educate and talk about social justice especially with the current climate, which can feel isolating at times. The topics that were hard for me to share alone, she got to understand on a deeper level with the projects and discussions in the social justice academy. She learned important terms, learned about the different ways to combat racism and how to be active and passionate about what she believes in. I would love the opportunity for her younger siblings to learn and feel the support of their peers with the social justice academy like she did.

I was a student in AES and member of the social justice academy. I was a member during 2020 and I felt safe and validated by my teachers in the social justice club. The club gave me a chance to feel confident standing my ground and sharing my opinion on certain topics. Since I was fairly young and didn't

To whom it may concern,

In the past, my son Donovan Phipps had the opportunity to be part of a wonderful summer program, the Social Justice Academy. It is so important to educate our youth about honoring the diversity around us. Educating the youth about social justice may help our community recognize, respect and understand our differences. The summer program helped my child understand the importance of respecting others based on their gender, race, ethnicity, faith and sexual orientation. Because of the program, my son has become more empathetic, understands stereotypes, learned about the history of prejudice and oppression, as well as social change. The Social Justice Academy is a wonderful program and I hope New Haven Unified School District will continue to offer the summer program to our youth.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Phipps
