ETHN 113A Decolonizing Geology

11-1220pm Tuesdays/Thursdays || Warren Lecture Hall 2113 Owing to the circumstances, this is going to be a chill course

Instructor

bt werner

Professor of Environmental Physics and Complex Systems Scripps Institution of Oceanography Affiliate in Critical Gender Studies and Ethnic Studies

Affiliate in Critical Gender Studies and Ethnic Studies bwerner@ucsd.edu

Office Hours (tentative – check web site for changes) Mondays 2-4PM || Thursdays 8-9PM online Tuesdays 1230-150PM Mandeville Cafe

ETHN 113A will be conducted on stolen, colonized, occupied, unceded Kumeyaay Land. Discussions about Regeneration - return of the Land and restoration of its Relationality - will occur throughout the quarter.

Course Web Site: https://courses.complex-systems-laboratory.org/ethn113a

Synopsis

The origins, development and practice of the Earth sciences have been closely tied to colonization, but these ties rarely are acknowledged, discussed, critiqued or used as a basis for rethinking present day practices and trends. In this course, we will deconstruct the historical relationship between colonialism and the Earth Sciences, discuss how this relationship has developed over time and explore practical methods for how the connections between the Earth Sciences (and, by extension, other fields of western science) and colonialism might be unwound.

Learning Objectives

- Learn about and explore methods for deconstructing the knowledge system of the Earth sciences, revealing its historical path dependences and underlying assumptions
- Describe the interconnections between colonialism and the Earth sciences
- Using cases studies, focus on the role of the Earth sciences in 'exploration,' resource extraction, hetero-patriarchal violence and resistance movements
- Investigate ways in which research, measurements, models, knowledge and education in the Earth sciences can be transformed to be part of a larger project of decolonization, and explore methods for empowering activists to push for these changes

Unlearning Objectives

- -- Challenge the common assumption that the Earth Sciences are 'neutral.'
- -- Question Earth Science's alliances with struggles concerning Climate Change, Extractivism, etc.
- -- Critique Earth Science's 'moves towards innocence' wrt Anti-Blackness and Anti-Indigeneity

Beyond Brave Spaces

The instructor of this course is dedicated to creating a learning environment of critical thinking and practice, where we collectively share, learn and produce knowledge. Drawing from Black Feminist Thinker bell hooks, I am committed to facilitating a collective space that includes:

- 'transgressing' to disrupt and dismantle the status quo:
- honoring and acknowledging the ways that people with different abilities learn, communicate, participate and interact;
- recognizing students' varying mobilities and lived experiences as sources of knowledge;
- working towards an accessible collective learning environment;
- supporting students through difficult conversations and creating an environment in which everyone might grapple with these topics and potentially move towards action;
- explicitly prioritizing nonlinear ways of learning and building relationships with each other.

Accountability

"In order to have accountability you must be in a relationship with that person." - Mia Mingus

In this sense, part of the work of this course will be to develop relationships that go beyond the transactionalism of taking a course/receiving a grade and teaching a course/assigning grades.

Instructor: I welcome constructive comments and suggestions about the class to better make it a space for productively working, learning and growing together. I will provide class time to receive those suggestions. I will provide timely feedback to the best of my ability.

Students: Active engagement, doing the reading and completing assignments on time to the best of their ability. Contributing to class discussions, accepting responsibility for the learning of your classmates and of yourself. The transactional part is outlined below.

Grading:

- Engagement includes participation during class verbally or in writing, posting comments to forums before or after class or/and actively assisting other students with their learning/providing learning mutual aid. 20%
- Answer Questions About the Assigned Reading summarize briefly the content and briefly answer several questions about reading assignments for Weeks 2-9. bt will provide a reading assignment template for each week (download it from the assigned reading link)
- Critical Analysis Essay research a contemporary or historical topic or endeavor involving the Earth sciences, and critically analyze it to reveal its colonial connections. Due at the end of week 6.
   An instruction sheet will be provided. 15%
- Summarize/report on an article or book chapter to the class A list of articles you can choose from will be provided. This will be a 5 minute presentation. An instruction sheet will be provided.
  Presentations during weeks 4-7 10%
- Research and report to the class on an indigenous activist working on issues related to Earth science and colonialism. This will be a 5 minute presentation. An instruction sheet will be provided.
   Presentations during weeks 8-9.
- Final Group Project group presentation (Week 10). Research, critically analyze a topic that combines the Earth sciences, colonization and resistance, and propose specific steps that can be taken in support of unwinding Earth science-colonization connections. Presentations are 15 minutes. An instruction sheet will be provided 25%

A step-by-step instruction sheet for each of the assignments will be provided.

Attendance and Participation

Learning in this class depends heavily on class discussions and working with and talking in groups, and attendance is strongly encouraged. Please actively participate verbally or with written comments during class. If illness, employment, childcare or caregiving responsibilities do not permit you to attend class in-person, please attend online synchronously and contact bt so we can work out a plan for you to fully participate in class discussions.

Here are some principles for participation in ETHN 113A:

- Be physically and mentally present for yourself, for us, and for your classmates.
- Respect is key. Respect yourself, your classmates, and the academic goals of the course. Please do not interrupt others while they are speaking.
- Participation is not just speaking/typing but also active listening/reading we are coming from different perspectives, backgrounds, and positionalities and we all have something to contribute to how we understand the readings and concepts.
- Step Up, Step Back: if you are participating more than others, step back and let others contribute; if you are participating less than others and have something to contribute, step up and participate more.
- Commit yourself to critically engage the material. Be an active participant in your education.
- Take initiative in your learning. Act with integrity.
- Commit yourself to arriving on time and coming prepared to learn.
- Support your arguments by engaging the texts (academic settings necessitate scholarly claims).
- Although electronic devices make it easy for us to multi-task, if at all possible, please don't.
- The number one ground rule which we will all follow is to engage in respectful critical analysis and discussion in the classroom. Abusive and harsh language will not be tolerated.

Come Prepared

Students are expected to keep up with the weekly readings as they are assigned in the course syllabus. Assigned readings must be read prior to class and you are expected to identify key themes, concepts, and terms in the readings. Please have readings, notes, your completed reading template and other materials handy when you arrive at class.

Academic Integrity

Plagiarism is not acceptable. Please refer to the "UCSD Policy on Integrity of Scholarship."

Communications with Instructor

Please let me know if you go by a different name than what is on your UCSD record. If you would like, I am happy to adjust your login to your preferred name.

Sexual Violence and Sexual Harassment

In this class, we might discuss issues that many find difficult, painful and triggering. I invite you to relate your personal experiences where relevant to the academic discussion. However, I want you to be aware that UCSD requires instructors to file a report with the University's Title IX Officer if any students relate experiences with sexual harassment or sexual violence in class discussions (chatroom discussion), e-mail or written assignments, whether or not that occurred on campus. This could result in an investigation without that student's participation or consent.

Campus Advocacy, Resources, and Education at the Sexual Assault Resource Center (CARE at SARC) -- CARE at SARC is an independent confidential campus resource for individuals impacted by sexual assault, relationship violence, and stalking. CARE at SARC also provides comprehensive prevention education and trainings for UC San Diego students, staff, faculty, organizations, and departments. CARE at SARC provides free and confidential services for students, staff and faculty who are survivors, or those supporting survivors. CARE at SARC serves as the primary point of contact for victims and survivors who need advocacy, support services and/or assistance with reporting options. CARE at SARC is on-call 24 hours a day and on weekends throughout the year. If you are in need of urgent support during non-business hours, weekends, or holidays, please call them at (858) 534-5793. https://care.ucsd.edu/

Office Hours

If you have any questions regarding the readings and or assignments please connect with bt during office hours. If you cannot attend the scheduled office hours I also am available to connect by appointment. Please email me with your availability to request an appointment.

Email Policy

Please do not hesitate to e-mail me with any questions and or concerns. I check email during normal university hours and will respond within 24 hours, however, I might not respond to emails over weekends.

Email is a good way for you to ask short, logistical questions and general inquiries about assignments. If you have guestions that require an in-depth answer or conversation, please connect with me during office hours. Finally, I strongly encourage you to ask syllabus and assignment related questions in class. If you have a question it is likely that others also have the same question. When emailing include ETHN 113A as part of the subject line or header.

Grade Disputes

If you have questions regarding the grades or written comments you receive. I would be happy to address them during office hours or by appointment at least 24 hours after you have received your feedback. Make sure to see me no later than one-week after the assignment has been returned. A regrade means re-grading the entire assignment and could result in an overall lower grade for that assignment.

Resources

This is a particularly difficult, stressful time. In my view, taking care of ourselves and supporting those around us, our friends and our family and our classmates and colleagues is more important than anything else. To that end, we will spend time in class checking in and endeavor to form a supportive community, despite the alienation of our separation and isolation. If you need assistance in locating additional resources for disability accommodations, health, food, stress, transitional support, wellbeing, mental health, financial aid, job preparation, and community building do not hesitate to consult your instructor.

Accommodations

If you need any accommodations for disability, illness, or any other reason please contact me so I can create an accommodation plan for your success. If you have a disability or other condition that compromises your ability to complete the requirements of this course, please inform me asap of your needs. I will make all reasonable efforts to accommodate you.

Writing Support

Some students will need to utilize office hours in order to get extra background and direction on the material. ELL students are highly encouraged to consult the resources at the OASIS center (858-534-3760).

Email Exchange

If you ever miss a class, contact your peers for support! Collaboration with your peers is a part of learning--this is NOT a competition! You can also check out the shared documents and forums on the course web site.
