SchoolYard Rap (SYR) is an educational curriculum and consultant company. We are a team of educators, creators, and agents of change with a proven track record in our work with districts. SYR approaches each district partnership as a unique collaboration honoring the strengths within each district. We seek to understand the current culture, climate, and context of each district and school site. We value the goals, priorities, and vision of each leader SYR supports. We aim to strengthen leaders' visions by providing tools, resources, and development.

We believe that it is time to start discussing and celebrating the significant accomplishments and contributions of diverse cultures at a young age so that the next generation will be more educated and aware. SYR provides content that educates students and teachers about pre-slavery Africa, antebellum America, and post-slavery accomplishments of people of color. Our music and media content serves to celebrate the many inventions, inventors, mathematicians, engineers, scientists, athletes, and artists that have contributed significantly to this country and the world, yet are often omitted from our educational experience. We aren't teaching history, we are highlighting Representation. Our work in 23 states and over 200 district partnerships empowers, educates, and entertains students and learners of all ages.
